Y (casually): Hi, there! Any parameter suboptimal in your system?

X (confused): What?

Y (calmly): That is just a slightly sophisticated way of saying ... "Haw ya doon, dee?".

X (like before): What?

Y (slightly strained): Now don't go on saying "What?" all the time! 'Cause that is not the kind of information I can process.

X (angry): You freakin' shit!

Y (unaffected): Input does not compute!

X (terminally annoyed): Go, fuck yourself!

Y (unaffected): I think, that won't be feasible.

X (runs off screaming)

Y (amused): That I call good thinking. A little sportive effort can help dealing with a lot of life's dire moments. I wish she hadn't run away though, as our chat was just gathering momentum.

Y (to a little girl): Greetings, Earthling! Are you eligible to speak on behalf of your species?

X (giggling): Gee, you're funny! You go on!

Y (reflective): Maybe you are right in suggesting, we had exchange courtesy first before entering into negotiations. Well, then. The honour is entirely on my side, your grace, to parley with you. I ...

X (annoyed): Do I look like a fuckin' ornithologist?

Y (alert): Uh, wait! That is a conundrum, right? Fucking always involves at least two of your species ... and your all alone. Do you think I ...

X (runs away screaming)

Y (reflective): Well, I had that reaction before. I wonder if it means anything more than the obvious.

X (puzzled): What? Who are you?

Y (annoyed): How can you ask me such a complex question?

X (stunned): Complex?

Y (defensive): I guess I couldn't answer in my native language even. Why do you want to know?

X (bemused): Look, this is a private party here and I was just wondering whether you belong here.

Y (amused): Funny you should say so. I was just asking myself the same question.

X (stern): Have you got an invitation?

Y (relieved): Yes. You want to see?

X (confused): No, Thanks. But why don't you say so?

Y (confident): But I do say so. I have got an invitation and I can show you.

X (defensive): I mean, why didn't you say ... right from the start?

Y (uncomprehending): What start? Start of the universe?

X (offended): No need to be unfriendly.

Y (pensive): Yes, I suppose. – (complaisant) Why? Who's unfriendly?

Y:
